

Dear Friends and Colleagues,

Welcome to the 6th International Conference on Women's Health

We are delighted to introduce the upcoming "the 6th International Conference on Women's Health" to be held in Shiraz, Iran on October 18 & 19, 2017. The Scientific Committee and the members have worked hard to present to you outstanding science in Women's Health area. We cordially invite you to join us in this exciting congress in this most wonderful setting.

This year all aspects of women's health are accepted. However, the conference special focus is on women's reproductive health, including:

Sexually transmitted Diseases

Ethics and Reproductive Health

Puberty

which will bring distinguished scientists to this conference.

This meeting is the largest of its kind in Middle East and we have made special efforts to make the format attractive for your participation. There will be interactive sessions with topics presented as controversies, where you will be able to express your opinion in discussions. There will be poster sessions to give you as much exposure as possible to your peers, thus allowing the sharing of experiences in research and clinical care.

Sharing with "The 6th International Conference on Women's Health" your best ongoing scientific research programs, through submitted abstracts, will be a major contribution to the originality and success of the scientific program. We invite you to submit your work and you will be impressed how academic networking can result in thinking outside the box, leading to progress as well as improvements in the future of Women's Health.

We look forward to your participation, particularly your insights, which can be shared during the presentations and discussion periods of all sessions.

See you at the 6th International Conference on Women's Health in Shiraz, Iran

Best wishes,

Kamran Bagheri Lankarani, MD; Chairman of Women's Health Conference

Najmeh Maharlouei, MD; Scientific Secretary of Women's Health Conference
